Legends of India

INDIA – where a five year old boy sat over the snow-covered Himalayas

...and mulled the meaning of life

INDIA – where God became a mere scribe to an immortal epic attributed to man

...and aspired to understand it before scribing blindly

INDIA – where God ate the berries

...that were tasted first by the old devotee... offered out of love

INDIA – where the world's best warrior donated his armor

...to his enemy... and immortalized the tragedy of his birth & death

INDIA – where a sixteen year old boy had the chutzpah

...to boldly & tragically break the Chakravyyuh and try to finish off the Great War by himself

INDIA – where God himself expounded the philosophy of dharma, duty and fighting

...that we forgot later... letting God's own country be ravaged by the sands of time

INDIA – where God is born... to be human... while man strives to be GOD

...and together they create ...LEGENDS.

Our time machine is revved up... all set to explore that INDIA. But the question is...
